The Office Should Seek the Man.

Nothing is more natural, nothing more admirable, than the aspiration of good and capable men to lead men and to govern great States. But honorable objects must be honorably sought. A man with a true political ambition, with the instinct of leadership, advocates wise measures, and, by the power which belongs to the instinct, impresses his views upon the minds of others. He leads by natural ascendancy, and they naturally and gladly follow. So Washington led. So Jay was a leader. But the modern system of a "still hunt," of private, illicit influence upon those whose votes elect to high place, of mou-ing intrigue, or bargain and barter and corruption, is not only dishonorable, but it is destructive of the essential principle of the government. The majority must rule. But only an honest majority can rule justly. To open head-quarters at a capital in order to procure votes, not by personal preference founded upon knowledge of character and of a career, but by private solicitation and representation and trade, and so to secure a majority, is to cheat the people and to caricature the popular principle. A majority so obtained is not a moral majority. It is not only not binding, it is to be repudiated as a crime against the people.

What was good enough for Jay and Washington ought to be good enough for us. If they disdained to propose themselves as the choice of the people, we may safely disdain it. The current question now is, "Who is an applicant?" "Who wants it?" And the fittest man is passed by because he has not asked for it. Washington and Jay did not ask. But when the people selected them, the people found officers quite as honorable and efficient as those who do ask. The man whose self-respect for the principle of the government prevents his "conducting his own campaign" to be elected or appointed to an office is thought to be altogether too "high and mighty," and too ridiculously squeamish. "If a man won't help himself, who will help him?" is supposed to be a conclusive question in the realm of politics.—Harper's Magazine.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

WHALES are rarely over fifty feet long. ABOUT four thousand roses are required to make one pound of otto of roses.

FOURTEEN kinds of dogs can be distinguished in the Greek and Roman records.

THE pearl fisheries of the Persian Gulf afford support to about 85,000 families.

Forty thousand dollars' worth of chewing gum is gathered annually in the State of Maine.

THE number of persons killed on railways in England is proportionally twice as great as in France.

IT is reported that twenty thousand people in India, in the year 1880, were killed by snakes and tigers.

THE milk of the elephant contains less water and more fatty matter and sugar than that of any other animal.

THE age of an oyster may be reckoned by counting the lines in the groove of the hinges of the bivalve. These lines indicate the annual layers of the shell-growth.

THE Malays of Singapore used to give a large price for the flesh of a tiger, not because they liked it, but because they thought a person was imbued with the characteristics of the animal he ate.

ITALIAN bees gather honey from flowers which fail to attract black bees, because the former have a longer tongue and are able to find honey which is beyond the reach of the black variety.

The Showman's Trade.

A showman, after assuring a reporter that nothing pleases the people more than something full of peril and bloodshed, gives the following incident of his career; but we don't vouch for his truthfulness—that is, not quite:

"I ran a whole season on a lion that had eaten a keeper. The people came in crowds, expecting every day to see him make a breakfast of his trainer. Was he actually dangerous? Dangerous! He eat another trainer, and then I lost him. His widder was actually in love with her husband, and she swore the animal should be killed, and the people sided with her; and as the beast was getting old, and the killin' made a paying sensation, I did it. But I made all there was out of it. I insisted that the husband should have a gorgeous funeral. She said there was nothing to bury, as the lion had eaten her husband. 'But ain't the dear departed in the lion? If we bury the lion, don't we bury the dear departed?' 'Cert,' she said. And we had it, and it was gorgeous. We had a percession with all our wagons in it, the regular street parade, only all our riders had black scarfs on 'em, and the wagons and horses and elephants and sich were draped in black, and the band played a dead march. The widder was in open carriage in full mourning, with a white handkerchief with a black border to her eyes, lookin' on his minatoor. Ther wasn't no minatoor, but she held a case just the same. That night the canvas couldnt hold the people. We run that two weeks to splendid biz. When the woman got over her grief, she went into the lion trainin' herself, ez 'Senorita Aguardente, the Lion Queen.' I gave her some old lions to practice on, and in less than a month she could do jest as well as the old man. She was a good woman, too. She rid in the grand entree, and rid in 'The Halt in the Desert,' did the bar'l act, did a good pad act, and is now practisin' bareback. She juggles tollable, and does a society song and dace in a side show. When I get talent, I pay and keep it. My treasurer changes the names of my people every season, so as to have fresh attractions. O, I know my biz."

Good Humor.

Surely nothing can be more unreasonable than to lose the will to please, when we are conscious of the power, or show more cruelty than to choose any kind of influence before that of kindness and good humor.

He that regards the welfare of others should make his virtue approachable, that it may be loved and copied; and he that considers the wants which every man feels, or will feel, of external assistance, must rather wish to be surrounded by those that love him, than those that admire his excellencies or solicit his favors; for admiration ceases with novelty, and interest gains its end and retires.

A man whose great qualities want the ornament of superficial attractions, is like a naked mountain with mines of gold, which will be frequented only till the treasure is exhausted.—Samuel Johnson.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 8, 1882.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MAYSVILLE.

PARNELL has decided not to come to America.

Mr. Wm. L. GRANT, a prominent citizen of Covington, died on Friday.

THE Chicago Tribune says that the crop reports from a large number of localities in the West present an almost uniformly gratifying and favorable showing.

THE liquor dealers of Portsmouth, Ohio, have organized to resist the Pond law. The union embraces fifty members. Twenty-two saloons have been closed by the bill.

"THE friends of pestilence, better known as the Board of Health," is the way the Enquirer put it. It is now admitted that the smallpox has the upper hand at Cincinnati.

It is announced from the Agricultural Department at Washington, that tea has been grown in South Carolina, that is in every respect equal to that brought from China or Japan.

DURING the debate in congress a few days ago, on "American citizens in British Prisons," Hon. S. S. Cox said "that no administration in England from the time of Lord Castlereagh to this time, ever placed its iron heel so brutally and so cowardly upon the neck of Ireland as this Gladstone administration."

SOME Californians are preaching and practicing a new form of vegetarianism. They eat the vegetables raw, believing that cookery is contrary to nature. Rumford, a leader in the movement, has lived for months on broken wheat, pears, melons, grapes, apples and tomatoes, all uncooked and he declares that he is very happy on that diet.

THE house on last Saturday passed the tariff commission bill precisely as it was reported by the ways and means committee. The bill directs the appointment of nine commissioners to take the subject of tariff revision under advisement and report the result of their labors to congress not later than the first Monday in December of the present year. Of the one hundred and fifty-one members who voted for the bill, there is included about twenty-five democrats. Of the eighty-six who voted against it, four were republicans.

THE constitutionality of Sunday laws was recently tested and decided in the Supreme court of California. Three of the judges maintained that the Legislature of that State had no power to prohibit secular employments, as the statute closing stores and saloons, etc., was in violation of the provisions of the constitution that guarantees the free exercise of religious profession and worship, without discrimination, and that the Legislature by making obligatory the observance of the Sunday law, had shown a preference for the Christians at the expense of the Hebrews, who are thus compelled to keep two Sabbaths each week. Four judges, that is to say a majority of one, maintained that while the legislature could not, on strictly religious grounds, enforce the Sunday law, yet they had an undeniable right to exact that one day out of seven should be set apart as a day of rest and that such a law was binding to every member of the community irrespective of his religious belief.

ASSASSINATION

Of the New Secretary for Ireland—Lord Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke Killed.

By Cable to the Herald.

DUBLIN, May 6.—A terrible tragedy occurred here to-night. Lord Frederick Cavendish, the new Chief Secretary, and Mr. Thomas Henry Burke, the Under Secretary, were assassinated in Phoenix Park. About halfpast seven o'clock they left the Under Secretary's lodge to walk over to Chief Secretary's residence to dinner, when within one hundred yards of the Phoenix monument they were attacked by four men wearing slouch hats. It is supposed that Mr. Burke was first assailed, and stabbed through the heart.

Lord Frederick Cavendish attempted to defend him, but he too was stabbed by the assassins. They repeatedly plunged their knives into the breasts of their victims, and having cut their throats, they got a car and drove rapidly from the park by the chapelized gate.

A few minutes afterward a man walking along the park road found the bodies, covered with blood, and at once informed the police, who had the bodies removed to the Stephens Hospital. A slight examination was made, and it was found that Lord Frederick Cavendish's arm was also broken.

The news rapidly spread, and created the wildest excitement and consternation in the city.

NEWS BREVITIES.

It is reported that thirty of the crew of thirty-seven, of the steamer Rogers, burned in the Arctic regions, lost their lives.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lollons instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffaberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: "I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment."

Skin Diseases Cured

BY DR. FRAZIER'S MAGIC OINTMENT. Cures as if by magic, pimples, black head or grubs, blotches and eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear, healthy and beautiful. Also cures: Itch, barber's itch, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm, scald head, chapped hands, sore nipples, sore lips, old obstinate ulcers and sores, &c.

SKIN DISEASE.

F. Drake, Esq., Cleveland, O., suffered beyond all description from a skin disease which appeared on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. The most careful doctoring failed to help him, and after all had failed he used Dr. Frazier's Magic Ointment and was cured by a few applications.

The first and positive cure for skin diseases ever discovered.

Sent by mail on receipt of price, fifty cents

For blind, bleeding, itching or ulcerated piles, Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is a sure cure. Price $1, by mail. For sale by George T. Wood, druggist.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.

Indispensible to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candied, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling.

For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.

The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.

Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete 55 Cents.
Cardboard Fillers for refilling 20 Cents.
15 per cent. discount on lots of 100 cases.
Batchelder's Egg Tester, 1 string 6 doz. at once, saves to buyers many times its cost each season. Price $3.00.

By special arrangements made by the manufacturers of this case most Railroads will receive them as fourth class freight.

The 18 dozen case made especially for Farmers' use, sent to any address by express, with out mailing, with full directions for setting up, on receipt of 50 cents. Every Farmer and consumer should have one of these cases, it will save its cost every month. Agents wanted in every county. Address,

April Rain Fall.

The total precipitation of the past month was one inch and sixty one hundredth of an inch. Rain fell on eight days. The greatest precipitation occurred on the 22nd—fifty-seven one hundredths of an inch. On the corresponding month last year rain fell on nine days, and snow on five. The total precipitation was four inches and four one hundredths of an inch. Less rain fell in April than during any month since October 1879. Last May was the driest month of an exceedingly droughty summer yet, its rain fall exceeded that of the month just passed—fifteen one hundredths of an inch.

Mr. James Burns, editor of the Flemingsburg Democrat was in Maysville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brintnell of Covington, are visiting friends in Maysville.

Miss Annie Morgan, who has been visiting friends in Louisville, has returned home after a pleasant visit.

Capt. J. A. Jackson called to see us to-day. He says the DAILY BULLETIN is read with much interest at Mayslick.

Miss Lucie McLaughlin and Miss Lillian Green, of Covington, will arrive in Maysville the last of this week, and will be the guests of Mrs. R. Ficklin.

To the Ladies.

Mrs. A. S. Whittier wishes to announce to the ladies of Maysville and vicinity that she has just received a fresh arrival of Summer Millinery. All the latest novelties will be found in her store. Will be glad to have all the ladies call and see the goods. The prices will be found to be exceedingly low. Respectfully m81td MRS. A. S. WHITTIER

The jury in the turnpike case still hangs fire.

MESSRS. JAMES SAVAGE, Dr. J. Reese, G. W. Adair, and M. F. Marsh, candidates for school commissioner, are in Maysville to-day looking after their chances.

OUR market report for to-day shows that butter has declined in price. It now sells at from 16 to 20 cents a pound. This is good news.

THE Fleetwood, yesterday afternoon, made the fastest time on record. The run from Cincinnati to New Richmond, a distance of twenty miles, was accomplished in one hour and thirty-three seconds. No boat on the Upper Ohio has ever made the same distance in that time.

Says the Flemingsburg Times:

The editor of "The Commonwealth" department of the Courier-Journal sneers at our County Judge for discharging the negro Sam. Bulger, who stole his uncle's clothes in this county but who was arrested in Mason. If the aforesaid editor will look at the 24th section of the criminal code, he will see that his sneers could be leveled at the Mason county officials who sent him here. The jurisdiction was plainly in Mason county, where the arrest was made prior to an indictment in this county.

How's this, gentlemen?

The West Union (O.) Defender says:

Correspondence is going on between gentlemen along the route for a railroad from Columbus to Maysville. This road comes into Adams county at Smoky Corner and from thence pursues the old Maysville and Lancaster route which was before our people several years ago. Capt. Gore and Col. Massie, who are well acquainted with the topography and geography of the country, say that this is one of the most easily constructed routes between the points named, and that it runs through a country which is not only able to build a road but sustain it.

It is understood by some people that after paying the regular admission to the fair grounds during the races, an extra sum will be charged for a seat on the grand stand. This is a mistake. The ticket required to enter the grounds admits you to all the privileges without extra charge.

The admission prices are as follows:

FIRST DAY.
Gentlemen.....	$1.00
Ladies.....	.50
Children.....	.25
FOLLOWING DAYS.
Gentlemen.....	$1.00
Ladies free.....
Boys 10 to 15 years.....	.25

A FEARFUL RECORD.

More Than 500 Deaths from Small-pox in Cincinnati This Year.

Enquirer.

The accompanying table makes clear the alarming increase of the small-pox death rate in Cincinnati since Jan. 1, 1882. Had there been any disposition manifested on the part of the members of the Board of Health to prevent a panic this exhibit would never have been made, for small-pox would long since have disappeared from the city.

The death rate from the disease during 1882 is as follows: For the week ending

January 7.....	6	March 18.....	33
January 14.....	15	March 25.....	22
January 21.....	30	April 1.....	37
January 28.....	13	April 8.....	50
February 4.....	16	April 15.....	41
February 11.....	25	April 22.....	51
February 18.....	31	April 29.....	55
February 25.....	25
March 4.....	27	Total.....	508
March 11.....	31

The report for the current week promises to be worse than any of the preceding.

SEC. 2nd. That the owners of the above described property upon which the several sums before mentioned are assessed shall pay the amounts by the several due in behalf to Cooper & Bissett, contractors and thereby save the cost and expenses of collecting the same.

SEC. 3d. That this ordinance be certified to said Cooper & Bissett to collect the several amounts in payment for their work and materials under their contract with the committee; and, if any of the parties owing said special tax fail or refuse to pay the same to said Cooper & Bissett, then it shall be handed over to the city marshal to be collected as other taxes and paid over to said Cooper & Bissett.

SEC. 4th. That if any property owners, not bounding on said alley and not contributing to the cost of this sewer, shall wish to connect therewith before doing so they shall pay their pro rata of the cost of the sewer and the persons herein including city who pay for the present cost of same, their heirs and assigns shall be entitled to a pro rata rebate of the amount thus paid by outsiders.

SEC. 5th. This ordinance to take effect and be in force from its passage.

Commissioner's Sale.

Mason Circuit Court.
Thomas Wells, Assignee, &c., Plaintiffs, against Equity, Defendants.
Hill City Turnpike Co. et als., Defendants.
By virtue of a Judgment and order of Sale of the Mason Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1882, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale, at the Court House door in Maysville, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on

SATURDAY, MAY 13,

at 2 o'clock, p. M., upon a credit of three years with 8 per cent. interest from day of sale until paid, the following described property, to-wit: All the Rights, Franchises and Privileges of the Hill City Turnpike Road Company, together with the Turnpike, and Toll Gate House and one and three quarter acres of ground attached thereto—which said company owns and controls by virtue of its charter, granted March 21, 1870, and amendments thereto—beginning on Fourth street, in the Fifth Ward of Maysville, Ky., and running to Wells' Creek in Mason county. Also a branch leading from the main stem of said turnpike near Dougherty's Branch on the Blue Lick Road, to the Maysville and Lexington Turnpike at the town of Washington, Ky., being forty feet wide. The Toll Gate House and land is situated on line of the turnpike and adjoins lands of R. Dawson, or sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money to be made, to wit: $2,670.70. For the purchase price, the purchaser, with approved surety or sureties must execute bond bearing 8 per cent. interest from day of sale, according to law. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Bonds payable to Thomas Wells, Assignee. GABRIEL T. WALL, Master Commissioner.

Choosing a Profession.

A question which becomes more important every year is that which concerns the education of young men for the professions. When it is finally solved, and set at rest, a great good will have been done to the public, and many youths will be kept from feeling in their manhood the heartburnings and the sense of failure in their lives from which so many are now suffering. It is useless to disguise the fact that the dignity of manual labor, guided by the intelligence of special learning, is not generally believed in. An excuse for this lack of faith is drawn from the argument that as mechanical trades are so subdivided now that a young man after learning one branch rarely is given the opportunity to learn another, and that, having but little need to use his brain in his work, he usually becomes a sort of animated machine. But is there a controlling reason why a mechanic should thus lose his power—assuming, of course, that he has started with a fair supply of intelligence and energy? That there is not is shown by the fact that some men with no other opportunities than their fellows, by using their eyes and wits, learn every branch of their trades, and thereby procure commanding positions. For instance in the pressroom of a newspaper of this city there is one man who not only can manage a complicated press, but can take it apart and put it together, and repair it if it gets out of order. Yet he has had no special advantages over the men whom he directs as a foreman. He has looked and learned, and he is now highly paid for the trouble he took to inform himself. It seems wrong, then, to assert that an energetic, intelligent boy will have no chance to rise in a trade. The thing to ascertain in the beginning is the trade for which he is naturally fitted. This is hard to ascertain, and most parents do not make the attempt. They put their boys into any clerical position that is open to them, or they decide long in advance that the youths shall be clergymen, physicians, or lawyers. In this way many men have been put into professions for which they have no aptitude, and so struggle on and fall. The question which arises is: Could not this evil be overcome by making it less easy to become a professional man? Would not many fathers and mothers in moderate circumstances pause and reflect if they knew it would cost much time and money to make doctors, or lawyers, or clergymen of their sons? But, leaving this question one side, is it right that any ordinary man may obtain permission to practice upon the public health or the public rights after nominally studying medicine or law for two years? As a matter of fact students do not attend the medical or law schools for half that period. Earnest physicians and lawyers who love their professions think profoundly upon this question, and are of the opinion that not only should the periods of study be longer, but that no man should be admitted to study unless he has had a collegiate education, or, lacking that, is able to pass an examination so as to show that he has a good foundation for special learning. Ignoramus would not then be so common in the professions. If only fit persons are given the right of way into the professions the unfit will find places suited to them, for fond and poor parents will be forced to study the characteristics of their children before marking out careers for them.—N. Y. Times.

The habit of chewing gum, common among children, is objectionable because it tends to separate the gums from the base of the teeth and exposes the sensitive portions of the teeth to the air, makes the teeth prone to decay and, furthermore, induces an unnatural flow of the salivary fluids as does smoking and chewing tobacco.

A writer in the Nineteenth Century says that contagion consists of minute solid particles and not gaseous disseminations. If this is true we can readily understand that a person who breathes only through his nose will be much less likely to catch a contagious disease in a sick-room than would a mouth-breather. Free ventilation, perfect cleanliness and frequent changes of clothes afford the best means of removing the contagious particles given off by sick persons.
